Memories Are Made of These ...

... the football games we dashed to in the fall ... the first record hop and the fun we had ...

the task we had getting adjusted to studying ... the new friendships we made.

We joined organizations and began worthwhile projects. The first snow fell and we had a snow ball fight ... the Christmas Formal we attended with that special someone ...

the thrill we experienced in winning and the heartbreak of losing a basketball game.

We felt joy when spring arrived ... the cramming we did for tests ... the excitement caused by someone breaking a track record

... the challenges we conquered ... the bitter defeats we swallowed. Finally, we seniors took that long, slow walk to receive our diplomas. The school year is over, but the memories will linger forever.

Term papers are by far the last thing that would make any sensible senior smile, but Barb Snepp seems to be content with hers. Sensible?

All A.H.S. students will surely remember their English classes. Freshman and sophomore classes consisted of everlasting grammar lessons, short stories, and book reports. Juniors will remember all the themes they wrote, poems they read, and novels they discussed. Seniors will never forget the plays, essays, poems, and novels they read. The sound of "Romeo, Romeo! Wherefore art thou Romeo?" echoed through the halls. Suddenly term papers were due, and there was not a note card in sight. Yes, for sure, English knowledge will be an important part of our future lives.

"Amo, amas, amat, amamus, amatis, amant" was a conjugation often repeated by Latin students. First and second year "Romans" will never forget the continual translations, the Latin banquet in the spring, and the expeditions of Julius Caesar.

Students of Le Francais read lectures, studied vocabulaire, grammaire, and composition. Many days were spent singing French songs and studying the Paris-Match magazine. French Clubs became active in classes. Their purposes were to gain a better understanding of the French people. A few students will still ask the question, "What did he say?"; but at least no one will forget the familiar phrase of "Fermez la bouche!"

ENGLISH AND FOREIGN LANGUAGES ARE THE

One of the trials of the speech classes was to talk ten long minutes on "Nuclear Testing, Good or Evil?" Sheryl Brown did a convincing job.

"And damned be he that first cries hold, enough!" said Chuck Hoover as he humorously portrayed Macbeth before his fellow English students. From left:

Linda Hoodelmier, Mona Ouer, Ann Trippel, Carole Wible, Wayne Showalter, and Bob Martin. Actually it was quite tragic! ! !

BACKBONE OF ALL OUR ACADEMIC STUDIES

"Ho! Ho! Ho!" was Mr. Love's contribution to the French Club Christmas program. All had a gay time.

ously at work, chemists Ruth Klock and Glen Jeakle experimenting with hydrogen gas. C-a-r-e-f-u-!!

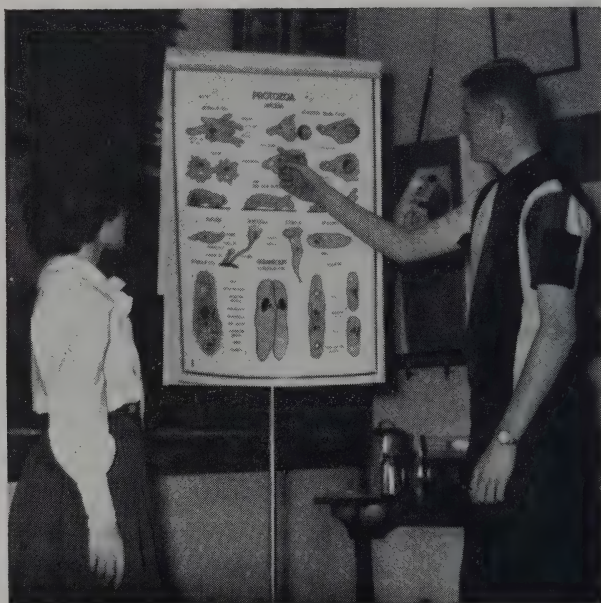

Listening for the reaction of a Geiger counter are physicists John Lange, Warren Sunday, Marcy Tucker, and Dick Wheeler. Tic-tic-tic.

CHALLENGES FOR THE

Freshman algebra students are first confronted with the question, "What in the world is 'x' worth?" By the end of their sophomore year, math students have learned how to make all sizes of triangles and squares. They also learned that they must not just know something; they have to prove it. At A.H.S. this is called geometry. Juniors made another attempt to conquer algebra, only to find that it would be easier if one left out "x". Seniors struggled with sine, cosine, and tangent, the basic concepts of trigonometry. They also learned Fundamental Freshman (college) Mathematics. All math students are well prepared for the future.

"Me? Dissect a frog? Never!" In biology, girls as well as boys were forced to participate. SSSSSS Bang!!! Yes, chemistry students created a sensation around A.H.S. with their knowledge of solids, liquids, and gases. About twenty-five brave science students went on to take physics. Many subjects interested the physicists, such as, refraction, wave energy, electricity, and the molecular theory.

World history students traveled from ancient Egypt to the modern world. After their sophomore year of world history, juniors studied the history of our U.S., from the thirteen English colonies to today's United States. They realized how freedom became a reality. Digging deeper into our nation's background, seniors studied civics and consumer economics.

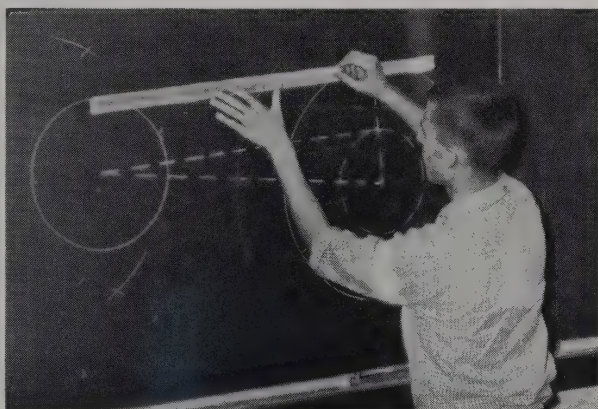

Vickie Moore and Terry Habig are concerned with protozoa in their biological study. Terry seems to think the slimy one in the middle is cute.

FUTURE ARE PROVIDED BY SCIENCE, MATH, AND SOCIAL STUDIES

Frequency vibrations are heard by "scientists" Mike Murray, Steve Brill, Sandy Boren, Ronnie Sproat, Kathy Walsh, Marilyn Haiflich, and Theresa Axtell. Mr. Wagner assists.

Geometry is a test of every student's ability in constructing and proving logical theorems. Ken Lange seems confident as he tests his ability.

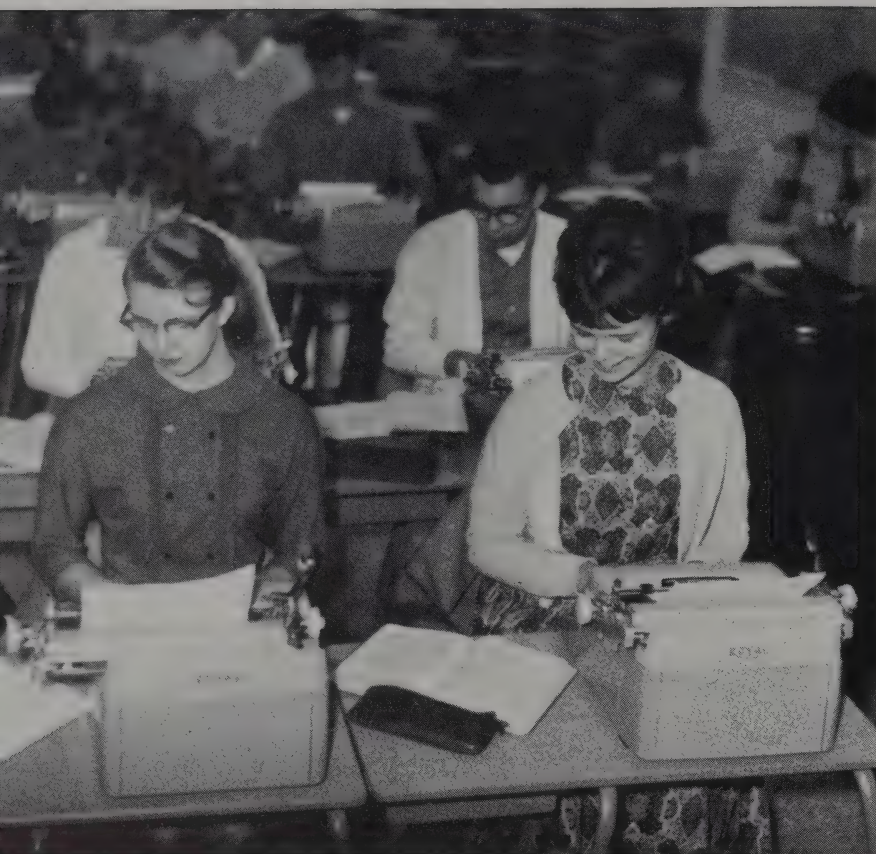

Doug Cochard, Pat Proksa, Kathy Miller, and Mark Shaw study the history of the world and the United States. Doug has finally located Indiana.

Having reached the highest course of high school mathematics, Rose Peckhart, Jim Mavis, Gary Dunn, Jim Barkey, and Jim Norford determine why sine squared + cosine squared = 1. Trigonometry students have struggled through first year algebra, geometry, and advanced algebra.

Linda Provines (left) and Nancy Farr have proven their ability by typing over seventy words a minute.

STUDENTS WORK HARD, STRIVING FOR

Mark Holdeman is shown working industriously at his band saw. Shop students make everything from magazine racks to tables.

Preparing for their futures, many A.H.S. students worked diligently this year at varied courses.

Those who wished to become prominent in the business world slaved hour after hour over a typewriter or dictaphone or some other business machine. Those who took shorthand struggled through many hours of dictation. Most were able to translate their scribble after the hour had ended.

Young men who wished to become engineers or carpenters are introduced to shop machines, drafting, blueprint reading, auto mechanics, carpentry, pattern making, and molding. Four years of shop are offered at A.H.S. Shop is categorized into machine shop, wood shop, and drafting.

Learning how to cook and sew through study, practice, and trial and error, home economics students become efficient. Sometimes home economics students were allowed to test their own cooking by eating dinner at school in the home economics kitchen. Many "home ec." students proudly wore the clothing they had sewn in class. Besides cooking and sewing, home economics offers home planning and design. Four years of home economics are offered at A.H.S. As an extra credit effort, many of the students entered an area sewing contest. The winner was Sue Muzzillo, a senior.

Gloria Bassett operates an adding machine used in clerical and secretarial training, while Margaret Jennings uses a dictaphone and a typewriter.

PERFECTION IN VARIED FIELDS OF ENDEAVOR

In the home economics kitchen, we see Elizabeth Clemens, Carole Long, Evy Mavis, Sue Muzzillo, and Joanne Baysinger busily at work. Burned thumbs, scorched food, and pricked fingers are a "necessary" part of the practice that makes perfect. What's for lunch, girls?

Our helpful and concerned guidance director, Mr. Note-stine, has advised many seniors, including Jo Ann Elliott, about their futures.

"Look out!!!" was the remark of a buddy in the back seat as Ron Sproat "took off" for another attempt at driver education.

ARTS AND SKILLS

Physical education classes were always something to see! The dreaded calisthenics and the dinner just eaten never seemed to agree.

"M.F. does not mean MORE FORCE!" was a familiar sound heard by energetic band students. During third period on band days the entire student body listened to the tuning up and practicing of our musicians. Under the direction of Mr. Richard Norris, the band did a superior job this year at games, contests, and concerts.

Five chorus groups were prominent at A.H.S. this year: the Concert Choir, Boys' and Girls' Chorus, the Boys' Quartet, and the Mixed Choir. Mrs. Voss gave them confidence and skill.

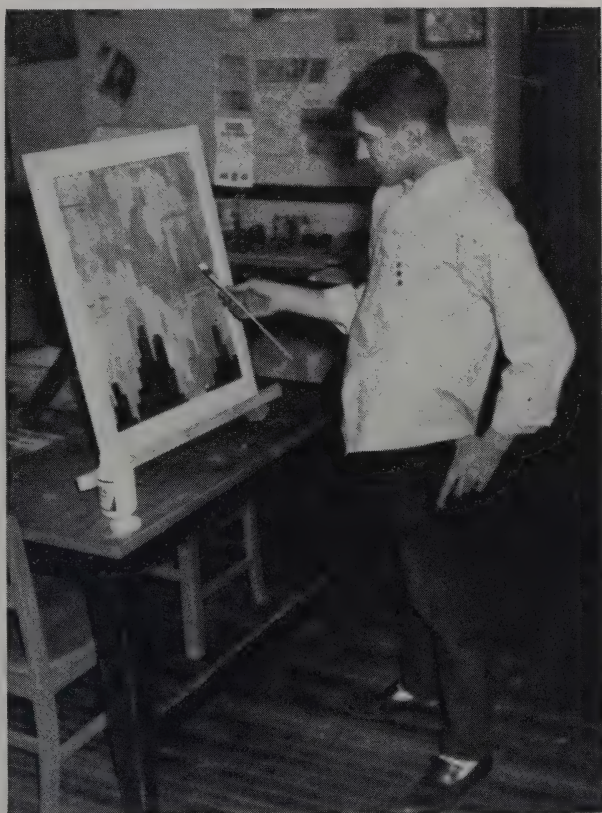

Physical education classes will be remembered because of the huge ball kicked around, the hilarious basketball games, volleyball games, and trudging down to the field. Especially remembered is the shouting laughter heard when a good buddy was thrown into the ice cold shower.

"A little paint never hurt anyone!" was the excuse of a fellow art student who missed his picture. This year art students will especially remember the puppets from outer space, water color paintings, and working with mosaics.

With President Gloria Bassett, the Band Council makes many decisions concerning the activities of the band.

DEVELOP ALL-AROUND CHARACTER

The choir practiced hard for the many performances in which it took part. Surely we will never forget "I'll Be Home For Christmas."

"Splish! Splash! I was painting a picture!" Joe Lemper's illustration of a city shows the fine work that comes out of our art classes.

Our Homecoming week started out with a bang as the fighting Red Devils won their first Homecoming game 28-0 over Hartford City. The theme, "Forever Fall," was carried out in the huge sunflower float and the appropriately decorated dance on Saturday night. Don Brown's band entertained at the Presbyterian Church.

As 1961 drew toward an end, arrangements were being made for December 26. Finally the day arrived and the "Snowflake Fantasy" was in full swing. The Christmas formal was decorated in green and white, and the music of Don Brown filled the air. All had a memorable time as the season ended.

SPECIAL MEMORIES

Pat Proksa and Rick Fleming are having a magnificent time. As always, they added a spark of joy to every occasion.

After many preparations Marsha Allen, Kim Gaskill, Diane Walter, and Gary Mavis are at last on their way to the Christmas Formal.

AROUND THE HALLS AT A.H.S. AND AT THE

"Sadie Hawkins" is the funniest dance of the year. Among those to get married with chicken wire rings were Warren Sunday, Karen Hahn, Gary Mavis, and Jill Sunday.

Snow and a cold, cold winter doesn't seem to bother Paul Dwyer and Duane Schlatter at all. They believe in letting everyone else feel the cold too!

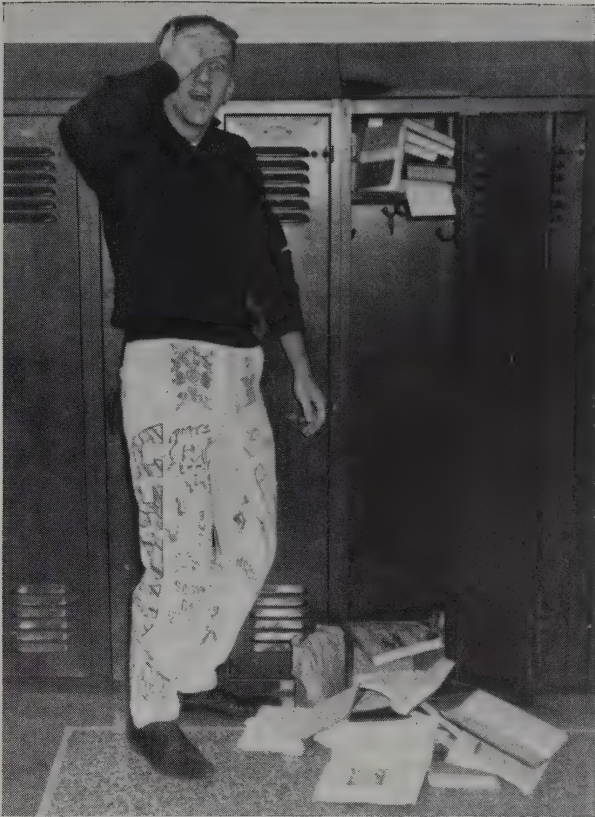

Spring has come at last! The senior boys enjoy every minute while conversing around Jerry Cline's Model A Ford.

Senior after senior could be seen walking the halls this year in his traditional senior cords. Each had his high school life painted on in black and red.

"Oh, my gosh!!!" said Chuck Hoover after his locker had been "stacked" for the 999th time. That seemed to be a favorite pastime of all Devils!

CANTEEN, WHO KNOWS WHAT MAY HAPPEN

On November 10 the girls dragged the boys to the annual Teen Y "Sadie Hawkins Dance." The guys, after many regretted promises to the gals, accepted the marriage certificates and Dogpatch wedding rings. Injun Joes, Daisy Maes, Lil' Abners, and Smoos were all there; and everyone had a hilarious time.

New Year's Eve was anything but quiet among A.H.S. students. Parties rang with laughter and uncontrollable noise as the clock struck 12.

Ah, yes, none of us will ever forget the Canteen! The majority of A.H.S.'ers spent their spare time at "Jesse's Place." The Y.M.C.A. provided many active moments for all of us; whether playing games, dancing, swimming, laughing, talking, watching T.V., or just studying, everyone enjoyed the "Y."

The minds of A.H.S. students would present great challenges to visiting psychologists. Freshmen caused their usual sensation in the fall, dashing madly through the halls in search of "misplaced" classrooms. Through the year groups of students were chattering in the halls, twenty-minute periods were filled with meetings of all sorts, and the office was always filled with students who needed help! The faculty will just never be sure who caused the most trouble — the freshmen or the seniors!

"Let's see who's in the deviltry!" was the yell of a freshman as the Devils' Journal went on sale at 3:45 on Friday.

STUDENTS RALLY IN SUPPORT OF ALL TEAMS

Noise, at the games and pep sessions, signs throughout the halls, bonfires in the field, the bang of the band, the yells of the Pep Club and cheerleaders, busses full of kids, a mascot, armbands, and victories all added to the spirit of our mighty Devils. The enthusiasm that boosted our team this year can hardly be expressed. All four teams did a great job. Every season was in some way a success. We will never forget this year in sports because of the many tense, sad, and exciting moments that filled every game.

After-game record hops were the final moments of victorious games when A.H.S.'ers congratulated each and every player for a game well played.

Probably the best part of every game was the victory huddle. The team was mobbed by a whole stand full of fans as the chanted V-I-C-T-O-R-Y.

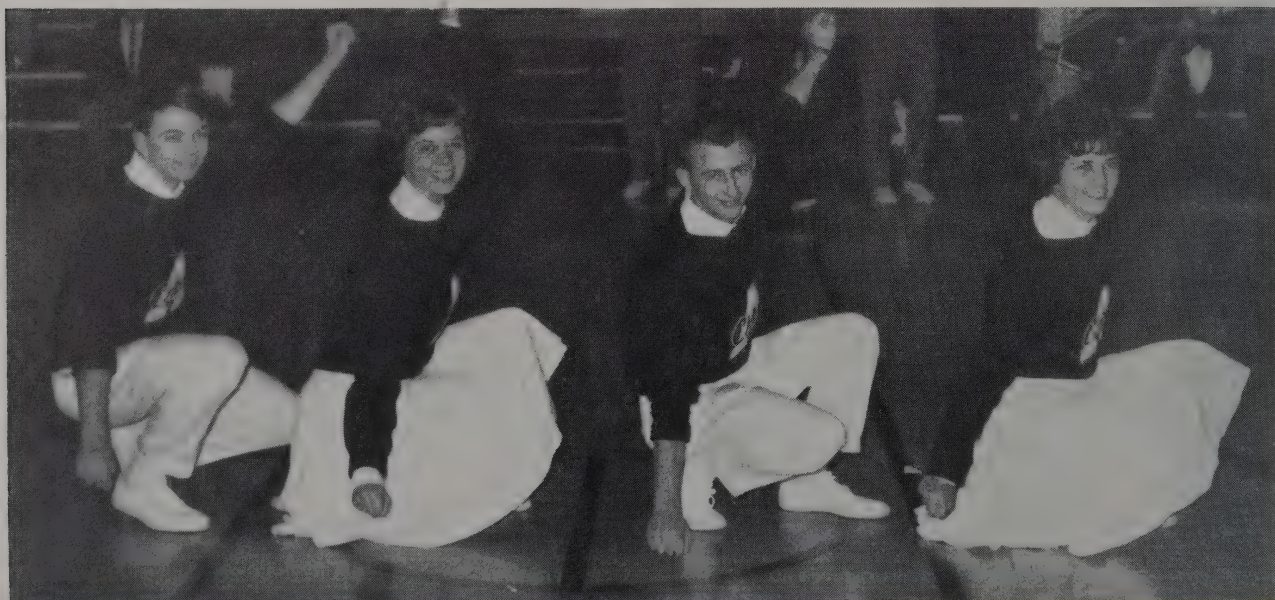

Watching the coach, cheerleaders, and student body cheer them on to victory, the football squad is anxiously awaiting tonight's game.

Carole Long and Nancy Cooper, our two freshmen cheerleaders, did a fabulous job this year leading the Imps to their numerous victories.

Our varsity cheerleaders, Mike Reynolds, Marcy Tucker, Dale Grogg, and Mona Ouer, led the mighty Red Devils to noisy victories.

WITH A GREAT SURGE OF SCHOOL SPIRIT

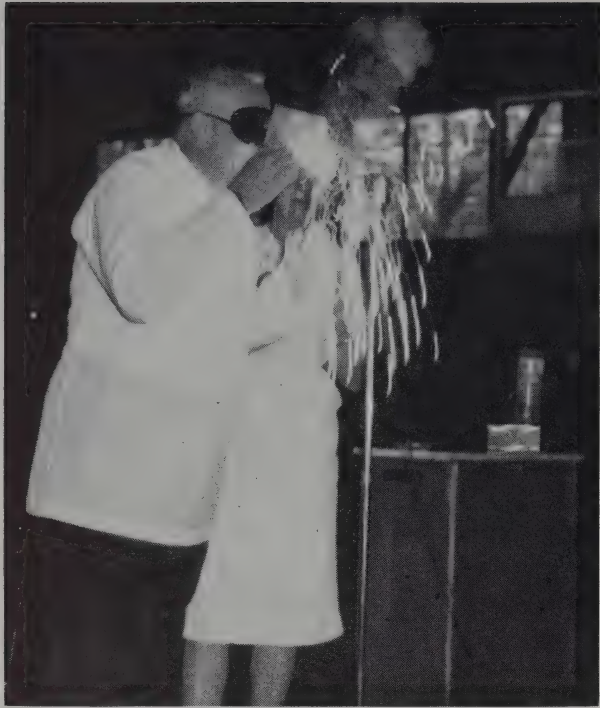

Hysterical glee was heard for miles around as the Pep Club cheered for our team's fame and glory.

"You gotta win! You gotta win! Let's go!" was the hopeful chant as the Devils were in tight spots. Moments of tension dominated a part of every game.

Accepting defeat is a part of good sportsmanship. No matter how a game turned out, "We're proud of our team!" echoed throughout the gym.

David Williams and his wife fascinated the A.H.S. student body as they showed how to make, handle, and use liquid air.

The Student Council and the Booster Club did an excellent job this year of selecting and sponsoring our assembly programs. Charles King, a Negro singer, inspired many students with his spiritual and group songs. David Williams and his wife showed how liquid air was made and used. Louis Guestella played the piano and composed original pieces using phone numbers. Charles Armstrong, a traveler of the world, had exhibitions of big game hunting. The Singing Hoosiers intrigued everyone. Last but not least was the performance of O. G. Fitzgerald.

The Miss DeKalb County contest was a big event at A.H.S. Eight Auburn senior girls competed for the right to represent Auburn. Diane Gray was victorious over strong competition. Her act was in three parts, the finale being the twirling of a fire baton. Miss Gray was rewarded with the Miss DeKalb County title at the fall fair.

Outside our own world at A.H.S. we played an important roll in our community. The student body took part and was successful in many charitable functions. Through our Y.M.C.A. clubs we also took a small, but important, part in the welfare and happiness of our community.

LEAVING OUR "WORLD" AT A.H.S. WE TAKE

Directed by George Krueger, the Indiana University Singing Hoosiers kept the A.H.S.'ers spellbound as they entertained with popular songs from stage shows, motion pictures, and memorable productions of Oscar Hammerstein and Richard Rodgers. Their songs brought back many pleasant memories.

This is Miss DeKalb County??? Diane Gray is shown trying out for this high honor in the funniest of her three-part twirling performance.

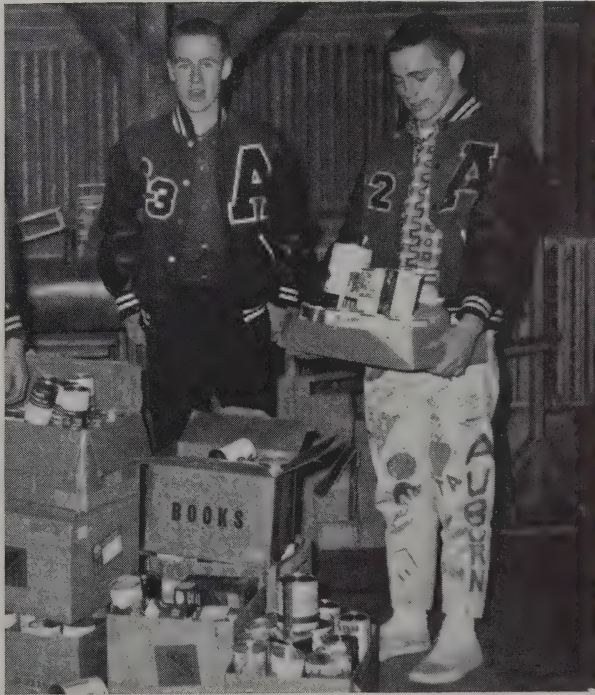

This is Miss DeKalb County!!! Now we see Diane in her true light, beautiful and charming. Diane very proudly represents our school and county.

AN ACTIVE PART IN OUR COMMUNITY

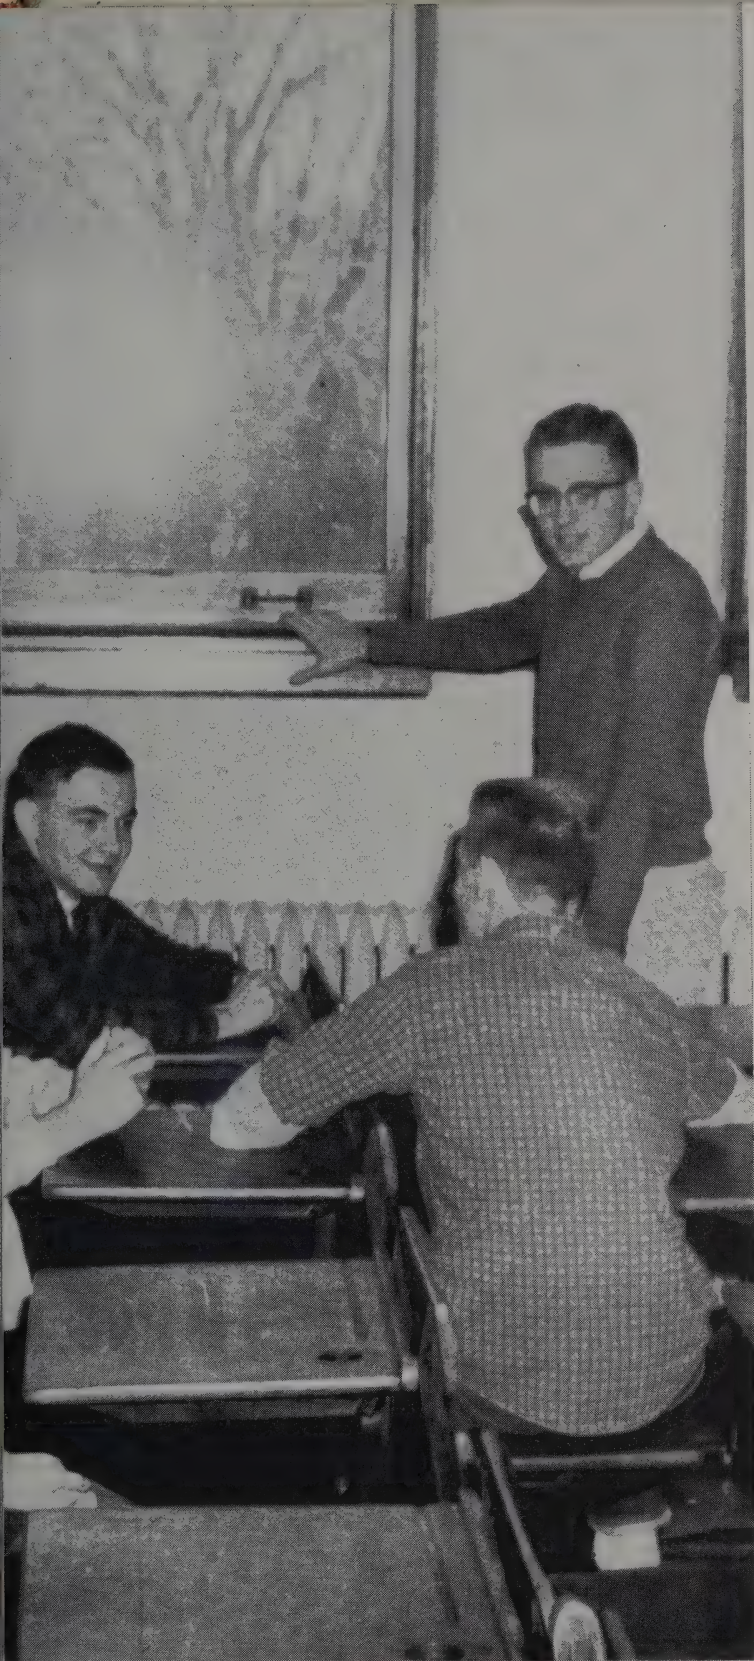

The Hi-Y Club collected over sixty dollars for the March of Dimes by passing blankets at the half of the Auburn-Angola basketball game.

Our Student Council sponsored a food bank for needy families in our community. It was a tremendous success. Lettermen delivered the food at Christmas.

STUDENT COUNCIL CHARTERS NATIONAL

Jayne Hamilton receives a basketball program from Sue Muzzillo, a member of the Student Council which sold advertising to make the programs possible.

The Student Council of Auburn High School, during its second year, joined the Indiana Association of Student Councils. The Council worked hard to promote school spirit. Volunteer members of the Council made and placed "back your team" posters around the school. They sponsored new basketball programs which sported the team's picture and the rosters of both varsity teams. At tourney time Red Devil arm-bands were sold by the Council.

The group sponsored a canned food drive at Christmas time to help needy families of Auburn. Over four hundred cans of food were collected.

The revision of the Student Handbook was another one of the Council's projects. This revision included a code of dress for the school and new cheerleading regulations.

The Council is composed of two representatives from each of the four classes and one representative from each of the various clubs. The Council is headed by the student body president, who is elected in the spring in an all school election.

On March 15 the membership of the Auburn High School National Honor Society was announced. The Society, which recognizes students for their service, leadership, scholarship, and character, has nineteen members from the junior and senior classes.

Barbara Knauer, Jack Bishop Sheryl Brown, Gloria Bassett, Kurt Hahn, and David Pepple form the business staff of the Follies.

Bob Martin, Sales Manager of the Follies staff, shows some of his sales staff the proper procedure of filling out a sales receipt.

The Follies of 1962 was published under a new system this year. Ann Trippel, editor-in-chief, attended the Indiana High School Journalism Institute for two weeks from July 23 to August 7. Here Ann acquired the knowledge which enabled her to show the staff the proper methods of organizing an annual. For the first time the editors of each section planned the dummy for their section and decided what pictures would be used in their sections.

The annual is published by the senior class of Auburn High School. It is financed by the sale of advertising to local merchants and by the sale of subscriptions.

The Devils' Journal, under the editorship of Marcy Tucker, changed from a two-column to a three-column newspaper this year. The newspaper is self-supporting and is published as an extra-curricular activity by the students of Auburn High School. Each year in the spring the student body elects a person to serve as associate editor for the following year. After a year of apprenticeship, the associate editor becomes editor. The Devils' Journal Book Store was opened for the first under the guidance of Mrs. Kay Finchum, the new newspaper sponsor.

The 115 members of the Pep Club backed our team at every game this year. In their weekly practices, the girls learned new yells and songs. The club presented half-time shows consisting of songs and hand motions for all varsity home games.

The Lettermen's Club classified A.H.S. athletics into three major sports — football, basketball, and track; and three minor sports — cross country, golf, and baseball. By 1964 letter jackets will be awarded on a basis of three letters in a combination of major and minor sports or two letters in any major sport.

A volleyball and a tennis tournament, archery and softball contests, and a playday at Huntington were the main events on the G.A.A. schedule. The proceeds from the Girls' Athletic Association's record hop were used to purchase equipment and awards.

FOR THE HIGH SCHOOL BAND AND CHORUS

The Auburn High School Chorus, under the capable direction of Mrs. Wayne Voss, had another active year.

Various groups, such as the Concert Choir, a mixed group of boys and girls; Boys' Quartet; and the entire ensemble, kept the music flowing through the halls of A.H.S. As in preceding years the ensemble sang at the Christmas program for the student body. The group also sang at its annual Spring Concert. Many other engagements kept these singers busy during the entire school year. Among their engagements were performances at Good Friday services and at Baccalaureate.

Three girls attended the district singing contest, and each received a superior rating and medal. The girls were Melony Souder, Elizabeth Clemens, and Jean Zelmer.

Mr. Richard Norris again led the Auburn High School Band through another successful year. For the third year, the Band Council was the governing body.

The band marched and played at all home football games with excellent precision. Music and twirling were presented at all home basketball games.

Members of the band represented Auburn at district and state contests. The twirlers also attended many contests and received awards for their performances.

THEIR FUTURES IN F.T.A., F.H.A. AND F.F.A.

"Go to the board" and "Please keep the noise down" were a few of the cries of the cadet teachers of the Future Teachers of America. Thirty members of the club participated in the cadet teaching program and gained a better understanding of the teaching profession. The club also sponsored the first College Information Day which gives the seniors an opportunity to get "first-hand" information on college life.

Remember the old saying, "It is better to give than to receive"? The Future Homemakers of America have certainly abided by this rule throughout the year and have gained valuable experience in helping others. A few examples of this work include a party for the unfortunate children of this area and the delivering of Easter eggs to the hospitals of Auburn. After working so hard during the year, the club enjoyed a formal banquet and installation of officers in May.

It has been said that the farmers are the backbone of our nation. The Future Farmers of America have learned to accept responsibility and undertake difficult tasks concerning their work. This year the boys farmed forty acres of land northeast of Auburn and took a spring trip to Toledo to visit the stockyards and grain terminals. Both the outstanding chapter farmer award and the outstanding senior award were earned by Dennis Heffley.

A great service is rendered to our school by the Booster Club. The twenty-one members sell concessions at all home basketball games. Soft drinks were sold for the first time this year. The profits from the sale of concessions finance the assembly programs which are enjoyed by the student body during the year.

The Speech Club presented two theatrical productions: Scrooge and the annual Speech Club Play. Debate teams were formed, and they attended the Indiana State College Debate and the Indiana Student Legislative Assembly. Club members enjoyed seeing

IN SPORTS

We cheered as a "Devil" gained a first down . . . made a layup . . . or soared over the crossbar. We shed tears in the face of defeat.

New varsity football coach John Platt and his squad began work for the 1961 season on August 15.

The 1961 football season opened September 1 with a four-team Jamboree at Angola. The Auburn Red Devils lost to Angola in the initial period 6-0, but the Devils held the Kendallville team to a scoreless tie in the second quarter.

In the first game of the regular season, Auburn traveled to Decatur and edged the Yellow Jackets, 13-12. Both Auburn touchdowns were scored by Jim Long, but Bob Martin's extra point proved to be the margin of victory.

The Devils won their next game by defeating the Bluffton Tigers, 21-6. Jim Long twice ran for touchdowns, and Jerry Cline tallied once for Auburn. Bob Martin booted the extra points.

For the second year in a row, Auburn and Angola fought to a tie. This 14-14 game was the first blot on the Red and Black's record. Jim Long and Jerry Boren made the Auburn touchdowns.

The game with Nappanee was canceled because of the death of a Nappanee athlete, killed in a junior varsity game a few days prior to the scheduled game with Auburn. The following week the Red Devils returned to action with a game against a tough Kendallville team and were knocked from the unbeaten ranks. The Comet squad handed the Satans a 20-7 shellacking.

Jerry Boren carries the ball for still another first down in a decisive victory over the Hartford City Airedales.

A large homecoming crowd had something to cheer about when the Devils smothered Hartford City 28-0. In winning their third game of the year, the Red and Black completely outclassed the Airedales. Jim Long, Jerry Boren, and Warren Sunday scored touchdowns for Auburn. Bob Martin converted four extra points.

A cold, muddy field was the scene of the second Red Devil defeat when the Manchester Squires nipped Auburn 13-12. Paul Carper and Tom Quance scored for the Red and Black, each going over from a yard out.

TO MAKE FOOTBALL GAMES VERY EXCITING

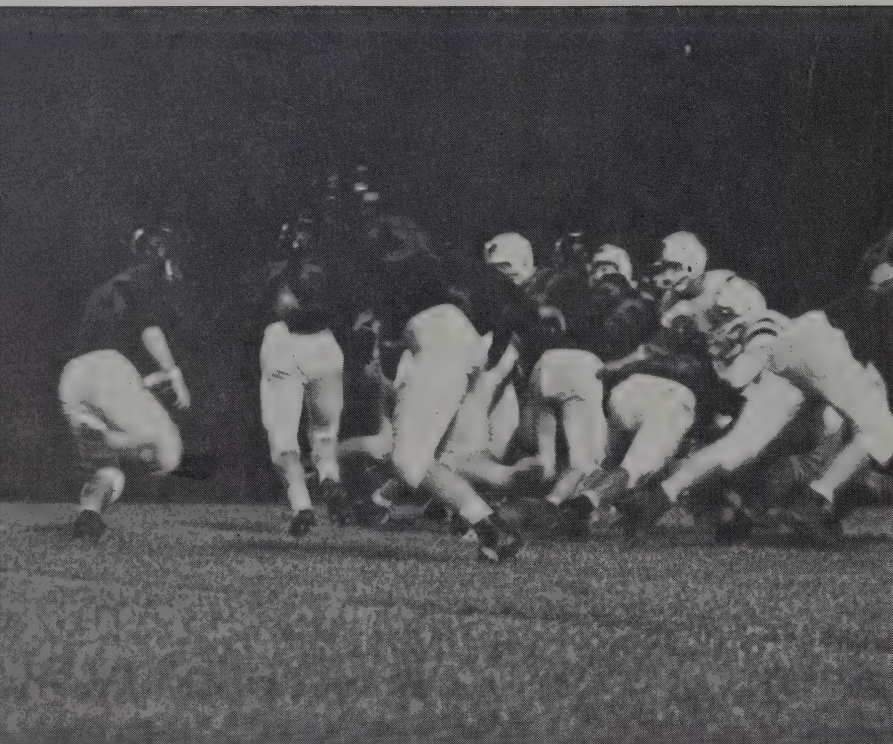

Jim Long, fleet halfback, is off and running for still another long gain. Jim scored two touchdowns in this game with Hartford City.

The Auburn Red Devils prepare to run a play in an afternoon game with Berne. The Devils were upset by the fired-up Bears, 20-26.

A Saturday game with Berne was disastrous. The Bears, playing their first year of varsity football, caught the Devils napping and won the thrilling game, 26-20.

The favored Garrett Railroaders downed a fighting Red Devil team, 16-12, in the final game of the season. Jim Long made both Auburn touchdowns. The Devils were down 9-0 at one point, but they fought back and gave Garrett a scare. A Railroader touchdown in the third quarter proved to be the deciding factor.

The Red Devil backfield is shown executing a double reverse in the Angola game. This exciting contest with the Hornets ended in a 14-14 tie.

A.H.S. FOOTBALLERS WORK HARD, FIGHT

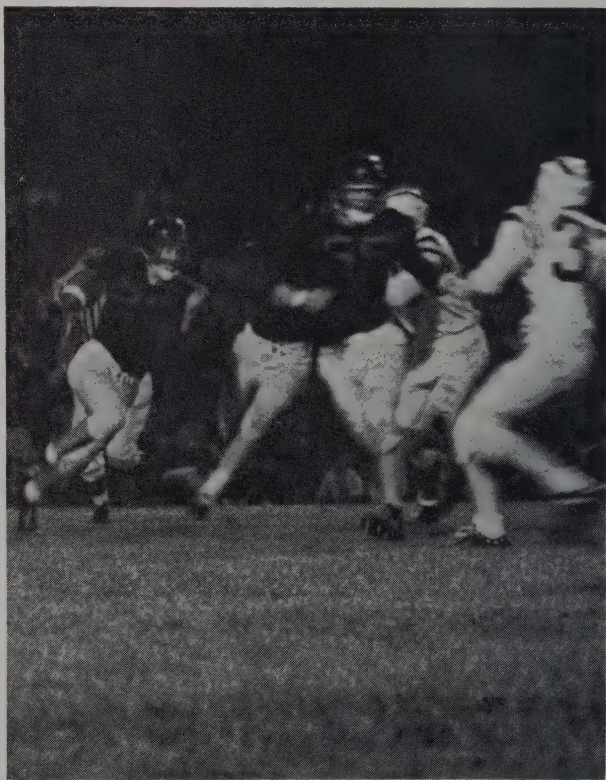

The Devils finished 2-2-1 in the Northeastern Indiana Athletic Conference and 3-4-1 over all. Jim Long and Wayne Segraves were placed on all-conference teams.

Receiving varsity football letters were Steven Allen, Jerry Boren, Paul Carper, Jerry Cline, Douglas Cochard, Gary Cochard, Arthur Garceau, Kim Gaskill, Howard Hanes, John Lange, Shannon Lewis, David Long, James Long, Robert Martin, Jerry McNutt, James Moore, Robert Myers, Robert Palmer, Thomas Quance, Mahlon Rieke, Wayne Segraves, Richard Spade, Alan Staggs, Warren Sunday, Stephen Thomas, Richard Wheeler, and Mgr. Steven Olson.

Several Auburn substitutes lend moral support to the Red Devils in the Bluffton game. No help was needed as the Devils won, 21-6.

On this end run, Jerry Boren scores against Angola. His touchdown enabled the Devils to salvage a 14-14 tie with the Hornets.

Dick Wheeler is shown tying his shoe in the anxious few moments before the Garrett game. The Devils put up a good battle but were beaten, 12-16.

Angola's Gary Knox outjumps Wayne Showalter to get the tip. The Devils put up a good fight before losing to the Hornets, 62-56.

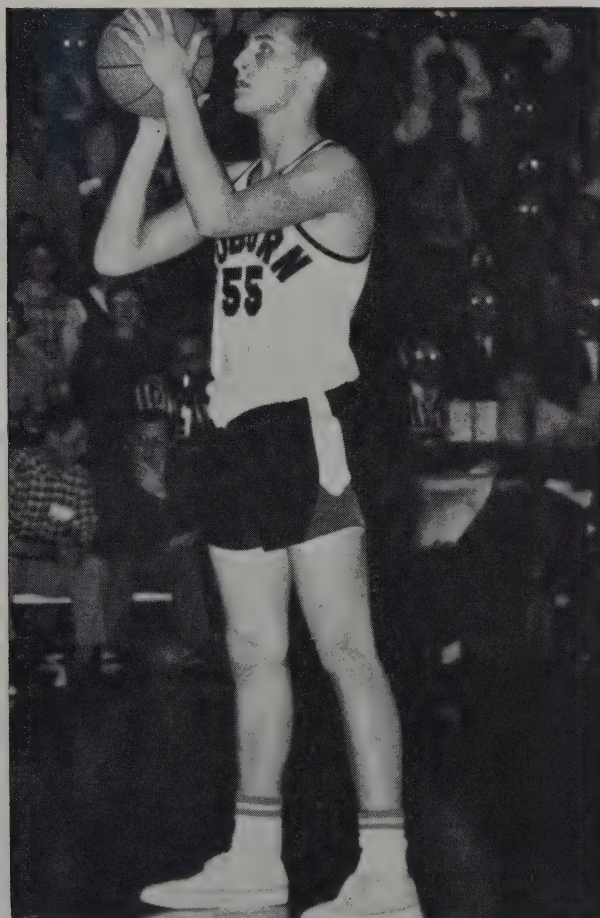

Coach Showalter gives advice to his "starting six." They are Doug Cochard, Jack Shafer, Jon Bruce, Wayne Segraves, Wayne Showalter, and Bob Martin.

TOUGHEST TEAMS IN NORTHEASTERN INDIANA

Wayne Segraves scores one of his 18 points in the Butler massacre. The Devils scored almost at will against the out-manned Windmills.

The 1961-62 Auburn Red Devils took a long step forward in returning to basketball prominence. They turned in a 12-10 record but were impressive even in defeat.

The Devils started the season with consecutive victories over four formidable opponents: Avilla, Columbia City, Butler, and Hometown. Jack Shafer, Wayne Showalter, and Wayne Segraves led the Red and Black in scoring in these games.

Portland came to Alumni Gymnasium and handed the Devils a two-point defeat, 67-65. Wayne Segraves, with twenty points, and Jon Bruce, with thirteen markers, led Auburn scorers.

The Satans returned to their winning ways by spanking the Adams Central Greyhounds, 67 to 40. With a 5-1 record, Auburn was ranked third in the area and twenty-fourth in the state.

The Devils then lost two tough games on December fifteenth and sixteenth. On Friday the fifteenth the Satans were nipped by their arch rivals, the Garrett Railroaders, 61-59. Then on Saturday the Chubbuck Eagles edged the Devils by a 66-65 score.

The Devils came back, though, with a fifteen-point victory over the Kendallville Comets. Bob Martin and Wayne Showalter combined for forty-six points.

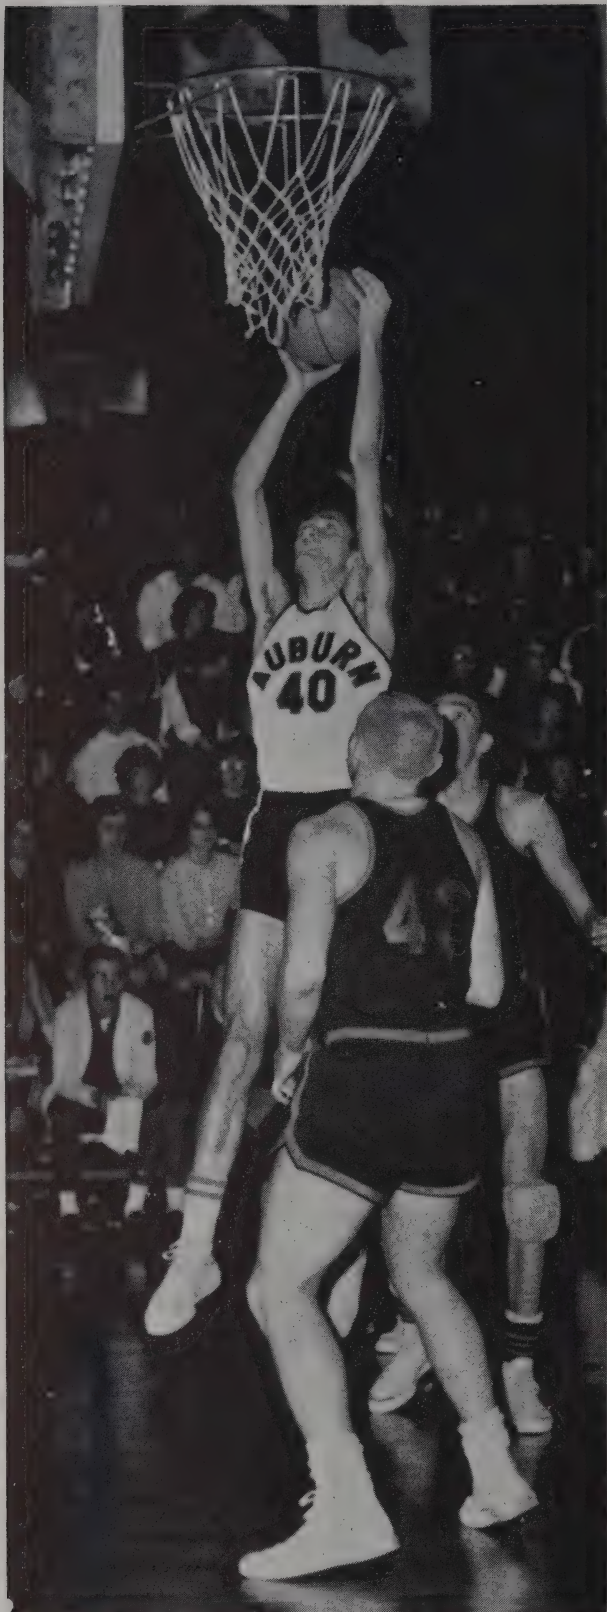

In the first game of the Kendallville Holiday Tournament the Red Devils were soundly beaten by a tall Ligonier quintet, 69-59. However, the next night the Auburn crew gained sweet revenge on the Garrett Railroaders, 70-66. Wayne Showalter led all scorers with twenty-six counters.

Angola handed Auburn its fifth loss in another close game, 62-56. The Devils' Doug Cochard Another rebound is grabbed off by 6'4" Wayne Showalter. Wayne led the Devils in rebounding last year.

VICTORIES OVER GARRETT, BERNE, AND scored fourteen points, but the other Auburn regulars were not up to par.

One of the most thrilling games of the season was the Berne contest. The highly rated Bears were beaten in an exciting overtime, 65-64. Wayne Showalter and Jon Bruce led the Auburn scoring with twenty-two and seventeen points, respectively.

Next, the Auburn team traveled to Decatur to face a tough Yellow Jacket squad. The game was a humiliating defeat for the Devils. The Red and Black never found their bearings and were walloped by Decatur, 84-66.

The tall Mishawaka Cavemen came to Auburn and handed the Red Devils their second straight defeat, 79-68. The first half was very close, but the Cavemen scored seven consecutive points at the start of the third period and went on to win. Bob Martin had twenty-two points for the Devils.

The next week the Red and Black returned to form when they trampled Hartford City, 86-50. In the first half, Auburn practically ran the Airedales out of the gym; and in the second half, the reserves continued to pour it on. Wayne Showalter led all scorers with twenty-three.

The Bluffton Tigers invaded Alumni Gymnasium tied for the lead in the Northeastern Indiana Conference; they left in second place. The Devils played an excellent game as they won in an overtime, 91-89. Although Bluffton's Brad Bounds scored forty-three points, it was not enough. Auburn's balanced scoring (five men in double figures) and fine teamwork provided the victory.

Jack Shafer is shown getting defensive position on Angola's Gary Knox. The Hornets beat the Devils in a N.E.I.C. encounter.

BLUFFTON ARE HIGH POINTS OF SEASON

The following evening, a worn-out Auburn team traveled to Ossian. The Bears jumped out to a quick lead and held on to it to post a 77-69 victory. Jon Bruce led the Devils in the scoring department with sixteen markers.

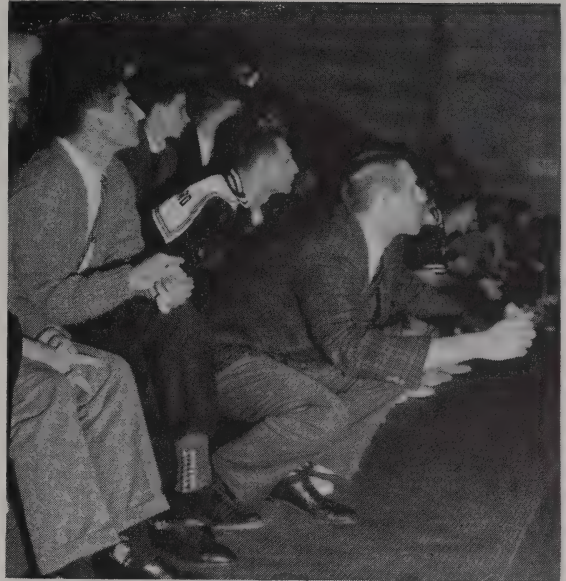

In their next game, the Satans approached the school scoring record when they ran over the Leo Lions, 94-71. Jon Bruce, Bob Martin, Wayne Segraves, and Wayne Showalter were all in double figures after playing only half the game.

In their final regularly scheduled game, the Red and Black traveled to Warsaw to meet the highly touted Tigers. The teams were evenly matched, and the game proved to be very exciting. The lead changed hands several times in the final moments of the contest, but the Devils ended up on the short end of a 78-77 score.

Auburn drew Orland in the Sectional and found the small Tigers easy to handle, 72-53. However, the following evening the Devils lost a heart-breaker to the Angola Hornets, 57-56.

The following boys received their letters in basketball: Jon Bruce, Douglas Cochard, David Long, James Long, David Lumm, Robert Martin, Thomas

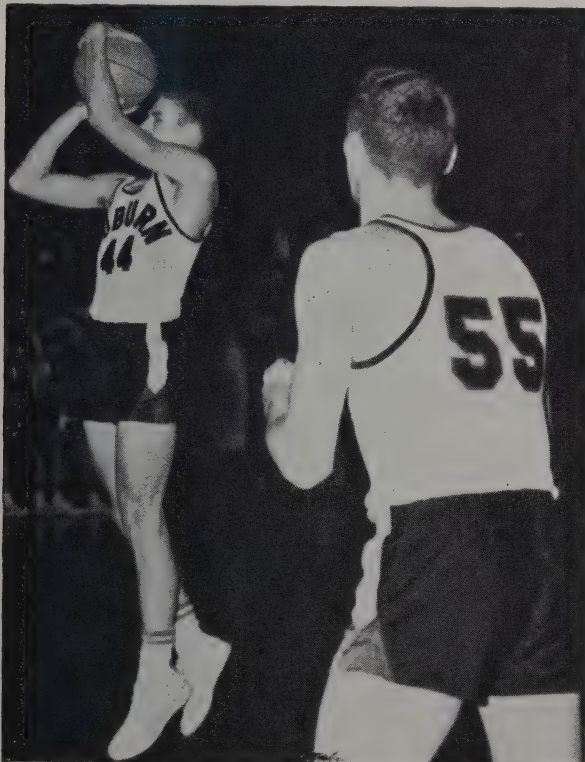

Jon Bruce scores two of the twelve points he poured through in the final quarter of the Bluffton game. The Devils came from behind to defeat the Tigers.

Dalen Showalter, Auburn's young coach, prays for a basket in the Adams Central contest. His prayers were answered as the Devils won.

Quance, Jack Shafer, Wayne Segraves, Wayne Showalter, Donald Wiley, and Arthur Garceau, student manager.

What do A.H.S. students do during their lunch hour in the winter months? Noon League games are the answer.

The boys play basketball on three days of each week during the season. At the end of a round of play, a tourney is held. To add to the excitement of these games, the varsity basketball players officiate at the games. Even the school "heroes" can be booed if they make an unpopular call.

Two firsts were added this year. One was the game featuring the Noon League all-stars against the faculty. The teachers completely overpowered the "stars," but the game proved to be exceedingly interesting. The other game pitted the senior all-stars against the junior all-stars. The seniors squeaked past the juniors by two points, 52-50.

The girls, too, had a league, and the boys were pleasantly surprised to learn that the girls could be quite agile. Their games were often amusing, but they proved the girls were just as interested in participating in sports as were the boys. This year the girls played both volleyball and basketball.

SKILLED ADMINISTRATORS WORK FOR THE

The Auburn Board of School Trustees, consisting of Mr. Norman Rohm, Secretary; Mr. Ford F. Walter, President; and Mr. N. E. Yoder, Treasurer; has been diligently and earnestly planning for the future of the Auburn School System. They have spent many hours working for the betterment of our education.

The Auburn School System is proud to have Mr. Ross Tipton as its superintendent. Through his tireless efforts, many worthwhile changes have been made.

A very familiar person to all students of Auburn High School is Mrs. Carma-Jean Eckert, who serves as Superintendent Tipton's very efficient secretary.

BETTERMENT OF OUR SCHOOL SYSTEM

The friendly face that smiles at us across the counter in Mr. Thompson's office belongs to his very capable secretary, Mrs. Robert Hughes.

Mr. Meredith Thompson not only does a very commendable job as principal of our school but also is always willing to lend us a friendly, helping hand.

These three friendly faces are very familiar around the halls of Auburn High School. They are always ready to help teachers, students, or anyone else who needs their services. Mr. Jim Stebing (left) is gymnasium custodian. Mrs. Margaret Smurr (center) is matron. Mr. Mel Surface (right) is school custodian.

The prime objective of any yearbook is to picture the events of the year. Thus, we the staff of the 1962 Follies kept this in mind as we worked.

Our goal was accomplished by teamwork. Many hours were spent in making layouts, writing copy, taking pictures, and editing all work.

Jo Ann Elliott as Associate Editor was better known as our jack-of-all-trades. Her co-operation was of invaluable aid. Patty Proksa learned by doing, for she was responsible for the faculty and administration section. An innovation this year is the School Life section. Mona Ouer's inimitable style is evident throughout it. She was assisted by Linda Hoodelmier. Sherry Bates and Marcy Tucker spent many hours, sometimes in puzzlement, identifying all students in the various organizations and activities. Jon Bruce was most enthusiastic about having action shots in the sports section. He learned that getting just the right ones required considerable action on his part, though. Jane Kruse assisted Jon by doing the minor sports. Jim Norford and Mike Wagner proved to be adept at juggling pictures as the Class Editors. They were also most proficient in compiling facts about every senior. Paul Carper probably is still seeing numbers in his sleep after indexing all the picture identifications. Diane Gray and Kathy Krumma, respectively, did the write-ups on the vocational and music groups.

Sheryl Brown and her able associate, Gloria Bassett, solicited our advertising. Kurt Hahn had the tremendous job of keeping track of all assets and liabilities. Dave Pepple was Kurt's understudy.

Jack Bishop and Barb Knauer were our faithful photographers. They both claim to have stooped shoulders from carrying the camera equipment, but we think the end justified the means!

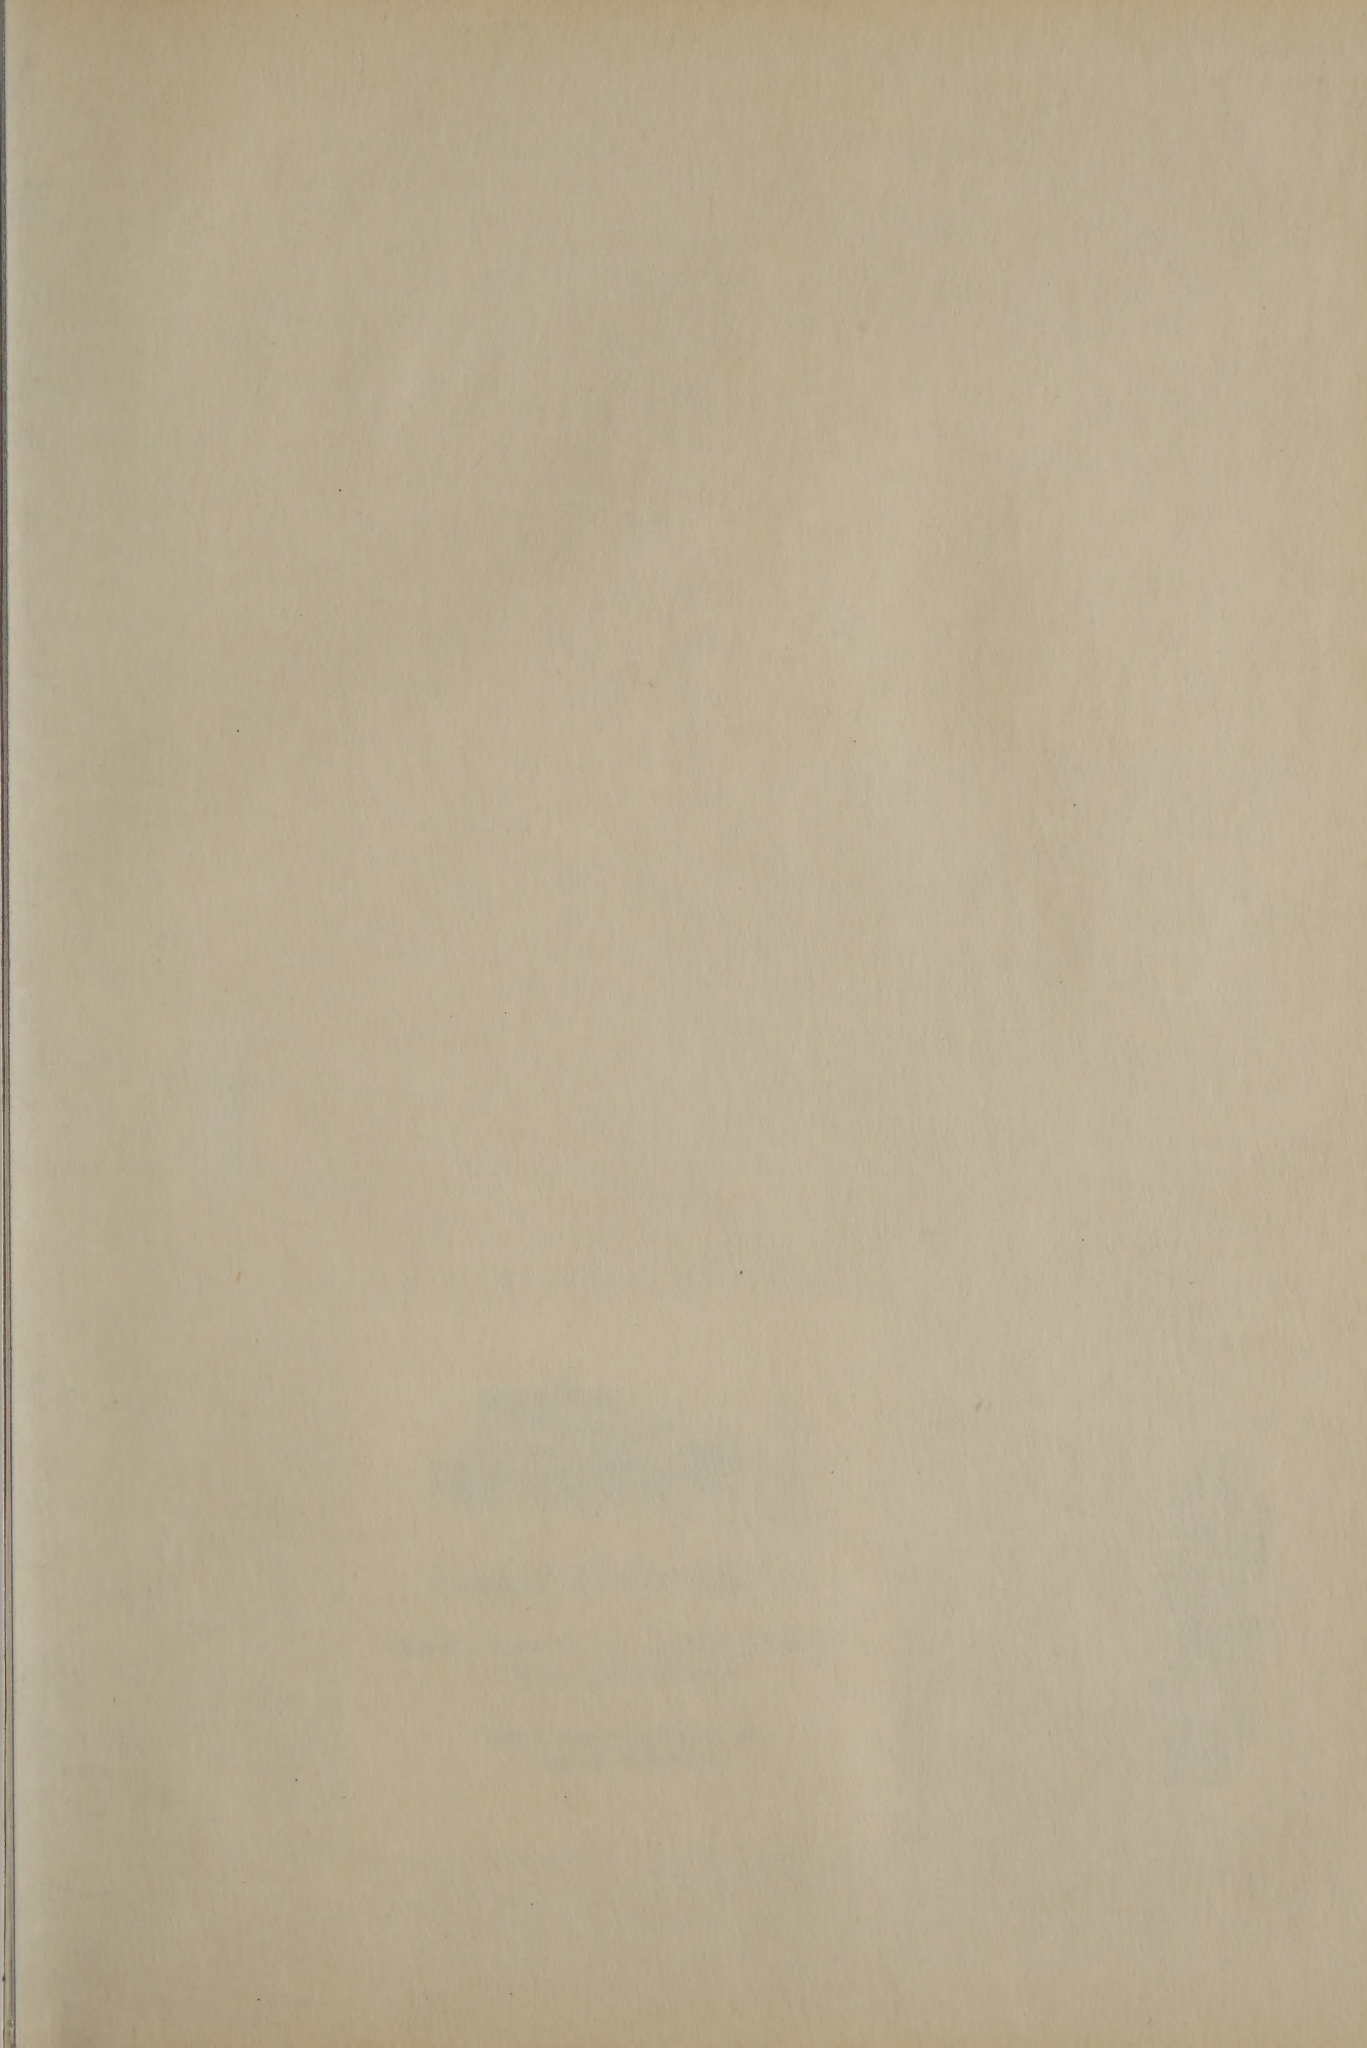

Bob Martin led a very successful sales campaign in the fall. Assisting Bob as salesmen were Gloria Bassett, Jerry Boren, Jerry Cline, Jayne Hamilton, Linda Hoodelmier, Sue Muzzillo, Mona Ouer, Jackie Rathert, Wayne Showalter, Barb Snepp, and Marcy Tucker.

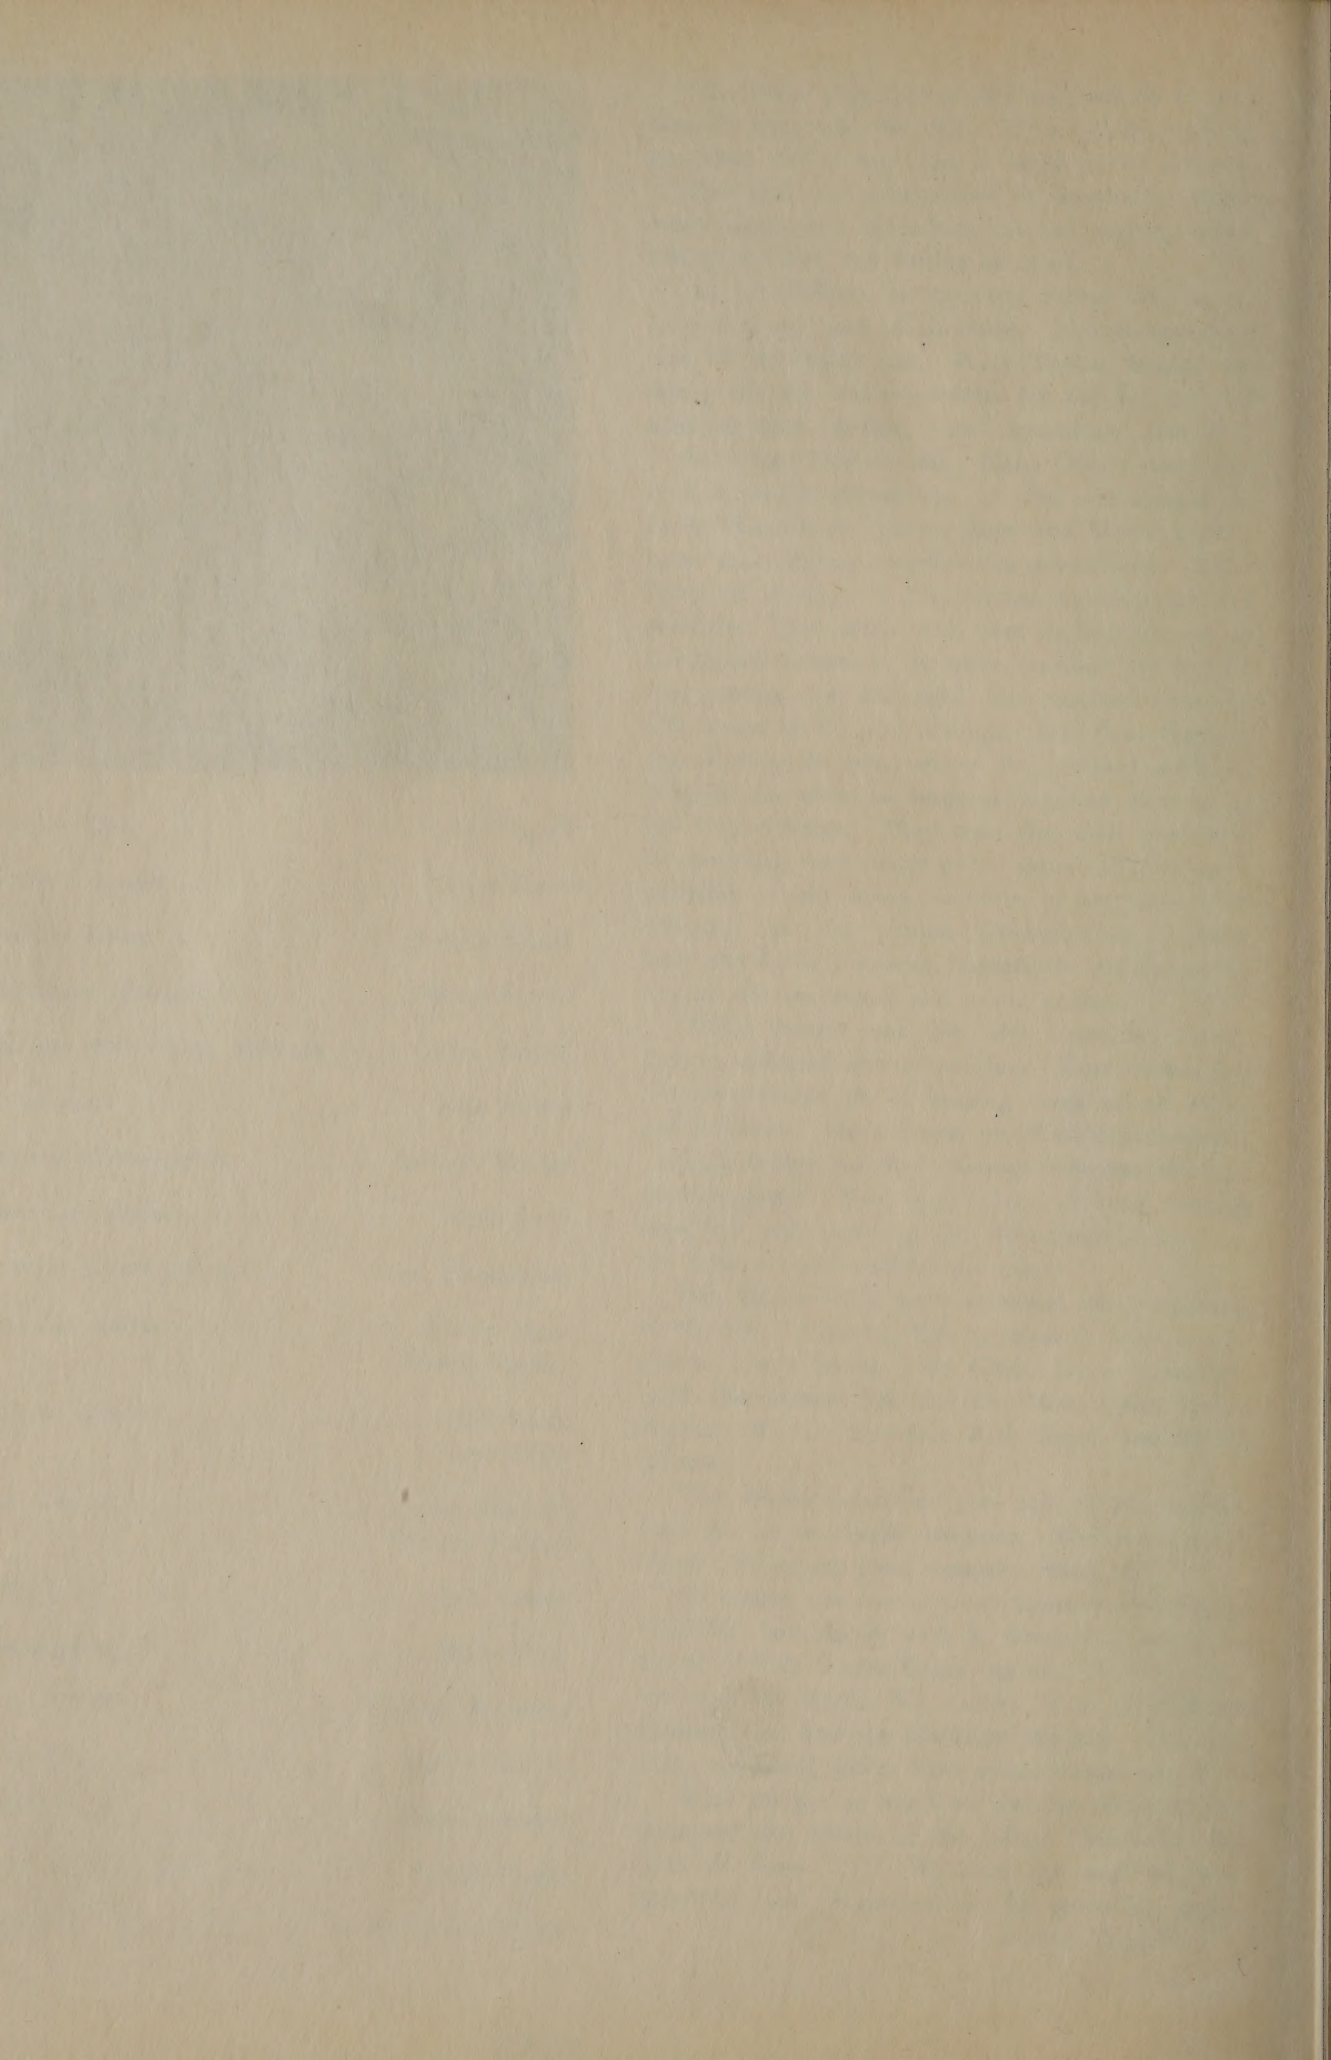

Our deepest gratitude goes out to Mr. Robert Love for his invaluable assistance. Without him — chaos! So we say most sincerely, thank you.

Of course, our annual received much needed help from Mr. Jack Bundy of S. K. Smith Co., Mr. Tom Broom of Fort Wayne Engraving Co., Mr. Kelso Davis of Davis Studio, Mr. Ernest Smith of Auburn Printing Co., and the Heckman Bindery. Without them, we could never have accomplished our goal.

With our goal in mind, we the class of 1962 have presented this edition of the Follies, "Memories Are Made of These . . ." We hope that some of your memories were recaptured in the preceding pages.
